March 7 - Tuesday - 4 Baird
Shipyard etc. in Am, sailed on Baird at 2:45 PM, for La Jolla intermediate site in 2 hrs.; stand by close to Cass. Navy tug at Orca also standing by. Cass having some difficulty seeing buoys by radar at night (need larger reflected) Rough ride to coast - no transfer of personnel to Cass (Bill, Gene + Moose stay with us)
Conf. Riedl re core labeling

March 8 - Wednesday - Baird
Conf. Riedl re core labeling; inspect lab equip. on Baird
To Cass after lunch; chatting with these stationed there on methods of labeling and sampling cores - while 1800 ft. of drill pipe were run in hole. Then positioning motor gave out (burnout?). No more pipe to go into hole till motor repairs made. Other meters checked. Last enough power available last night — difficulty in holding position, held easily within 180' radius this morning.

Benson & Woodward skeptical of going to Guadalupe with present Hooker Masten - may need larger size. Should stay here, in any event, until somewhat less favorable weather gives more crucial test. Benson terns for Arizona.
Fran Shepard & Doug Ferrin arrive; latter stays overnight. Weather ideal - see for nearby A. Smeg.

Bark & Board at 4:30 p.m.

Observed survey in evening from about 9-12, organized by Innan as series of passes across canyon & levels of hadjala delta. - Survey Tracey on PDR, Bill Briggs on Radar & Innan plotting & coordinating.

Runs 1-4 mostly olive green clay with minor amounts sand; fragments of shell/rare. Split cores may show more sand, etc. that is apparent in scraped core; probably lost most of sand layers in rotary coring (see US63 notebook). On whole, a very successful day. John Steinbeck aboard & apparently much interested in operations.

April 2 ~ Sunday - EASTER

On Baird

Wrapup general description;
yellow material from Run 3 (EM-7) may be dolomitic —
it reacts slowly but steadily
To HCl - residue shows distinct well formed rhombs - no trace of organisms.

To Cuss with Bill Briggs for
PM. Examined basalt cores;
EM-7-4 - 553 - 557
(=12,259 - 12,263) Bundle
to Cuss Amphibolus for X-ray
- 2 pieces 2.2 + 5 cm.
bright green = glaucophane
acc. Amphibolus.

= 12,263 - 12,283
371 cm = 3 sections
13 cm = green silty clay (sandy?)
358 basalt, fractured - with zeolites

EM - 7 - 6 577 - 584
= 12,283 - 12,290
16 cm. basalt with zeolite veins, caugh in liner

Returned to Baird after long visit with Bacon, shorter ones with Reville, Archibald, Monk, etc. Plan for balance of program now as follows:
1. Spend 2 wks. dry drilling basalt

2. - run following thru bit
   - Self potential) Electro
   - Resistivity (logs
   - Gamma neutron

3. - place geophone at top of bit, explode gas gun now
    at surface and attempt to measure thickness of basalt

4. - Pull out of hole + start
    - EM - 5, punching for gaps in sed. record of
    - EM - 7 [most of hole]

5. - Drill logging hole.

6. - test Turbo drill (no sender - can take core?) - & try to go far in basalt - test effectiveness of method
April 3 - Monday - on Baird
Cass continues drilling basalt, worked on Baird to ms etc.

tonight Rec. 8pm - mostly questionable junk for sediment.

April 4 - Tuesday - on Baird
Legged following:
EM-7, Run 7
6 & c.m. yellow greensill/day
few rads + diatoms
335-336 cm yellowish gray (1)
silty clay - no fess - rhombic Xh

EM-7, Run 8
Mixture basalt, clay, pumice; residues with dark white glass, sand, mica, etc. few good diazom radioactive
May, in part, represent an ash layer between dasalts?

Cass has finished preliminary logging in EM-7 and has obtained first core from EM-8 - at 100 ft

Plot elec. log (self-potential and resistivity) last night in EM-7
Talked with Bascom re Balsky visit: kill on way down but Bascom will call Sheila to advise Balsky that his presence not essential but if he comes 9:30 would probably be here for bit of geophy logging.

April 5 - Wed. - on Baird
- Ms., 7th day; 11 long cores from EM-2 over at 4:30 - worked on these in evening. Hole down to 300' - core recovery improving; plan to go back and fill top gap with another hole.
- Dead calm most of day
- Little breeze from SW in eve.
Worked till past midnight—splitting cores from EM-8 (Runs 14, 19, 16, 12, 13) (cut hand on saw)
